AURAMEX LAUNCHES NEW WEBSITE

Auramex Resource Corp. is pleased to announce that it has released a new version of its website at: www.auramex.com.

The site has been updated with extensive information about the company's exploration properties in the Stewart mining camp in northwestern British Columbia. This information represents, in part, the compilation of all pre-existing data pertinent to the properties and was amalgamated with Auramex's recent exploration work. This work incorporates the interpretation of Side Aperture Radar (SAR) data, performed in conjunction with Auracle Geospatial Science Inc. (see Auramex news releases dated November 3rd and December 7th, 2016).

Auramex looks forward to continued exploration in the Stewart Camp in 2017.
